

Sankalp Journal of Multidisciplinary Studies (SJMS), Volume: 1 Issue: 2, November- December 2021, Pp. 27-37

IMPACT OF GLOBALIZATION ON POLITICAL FACTORS

Dr. Manita Kaur Viridi

Assistant Professor
Govt. College Bichhua, Chhindwara (M.P)

Abstract: Globalization is a Multidimensional Procedure in its Countryside. In which Economic Cultural and political measurement is protuberant. At current economic globalization is more wide and profounder than culture, and political globalization. Globalization is the system in which humanity cannot live as a distinct public. Due to Globalization, there is a huge alteration in all features of human life, the coldness between people, republic and time is receiving smaller. In the Residence of national economy, National finance and a nationwide production, global trade, global money and global manufacture are emerging. Nowadays, Countries around the world are linked to each other in economic and political footings, yet each nation has its own democratic system. Today the choices of the nation actions are prejudiced by globalization. This is named political globalization. Owing to globalization, a strong change is Visible in the part of the centre in the Indian federal system. Anywhere the central government previous rummage sale to interfere in every action of the market, now it is live a decision-making role in the setting of the market. The government has set up a number of controlling bodies, which are employed to ease the path of sale, redress managerial disputes, prevent anticompetitive efforts of businesses and protect the attention of the customer.*

Keywords— Globalization, Political, Information Technology.